READY TO WORK

About Me

I'm the founder of AcademeForge, an early-stage EdTech initiative focused on rebuilding education from the ground up — starting where systems fail most: the student.

Over the last year, I worked hands-on with 500+ students through quizzes, academic initiatives, and on-ground programs. My teaching experience in rural schools gave me operational insight into low-resource education environments, shaping how I think about product design, scalability, and real impact.

Experience

Founder & CEO — AcademeForge

Jan 2024 – Present | Patna, Bihar

Leading an early-stage EdTech rebuild with a systems-first mindset. Designing learning structures, brand identity, web presence, and execution models grounded in real student behavior and school-level constraints.

Teacher (Internship) — Rural School

Feb 2025 – Jul 2025

Taught and worked directly with students in low-resource environments. Gained firsthand insight into classroom realities, attention gaps, infrastructure limits, and implementation challenges.

Content Creator — YouTube

Dec 2019 – Present

Built and managed a mixed-audience YouTube community across comedy, gaming, vlogs, and storytelling. Developed strong understanding of audience psychology, distribution, and communication — now applied to founder storytelling and growth strategy.

Key Project

AcademeForge Website & Learning System

Designed and built the early-stage web presence and learning structure for AcademeForge. Focused on clarity, trust, and long-term scalability rather than surface-level EdTech features.

Founder Thesis

Education won't be fixed by surface-level EdTech or pitch decks. It will be rebuilt by founders who deeply understand students, systems, and scale — through firsthand execution.
